Maple Ridge Cabinetry crafts some of the finest kitchens and high-end cabinetry in the country. They are known for their finish work and incredible quality, all made at their one 110,000 sq. ft. site in northeast Georgia. A GREENLIGHT lighting audit provided the detailed information to make a decision concerning an LED lighting modernization. Their business objectives were to increase lighting, particularly in the finishing areas, and have no net operational cost. The solution chosen yielded enough savings to more than cover the cost for a five-year lease to-own program. The company currently leases about 20% of it's space to a welding company, and the lessee saw enough value to contribute their pro-rata cost of the program.

CASE STUDY

MILLWORK

“GREENLIGHT told us to expect a 15% to 25% increase in lighting. We think we got at least 50% in most areas.”

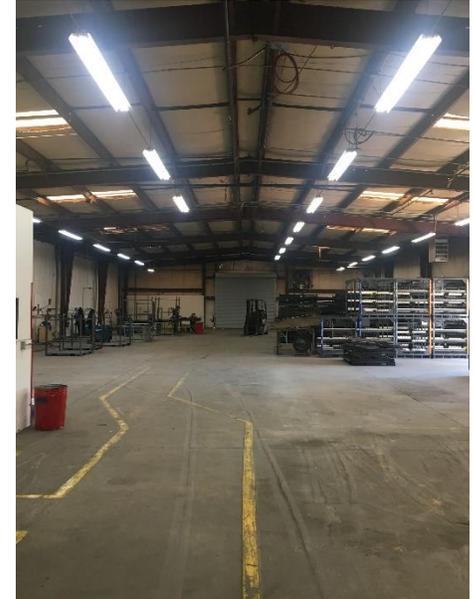

- Operations Manager

FINISHING

“The increase and quality of the new lights has made a huge difference in seeing correct and true colors in our finishing work.”

- Finishing Supervisor

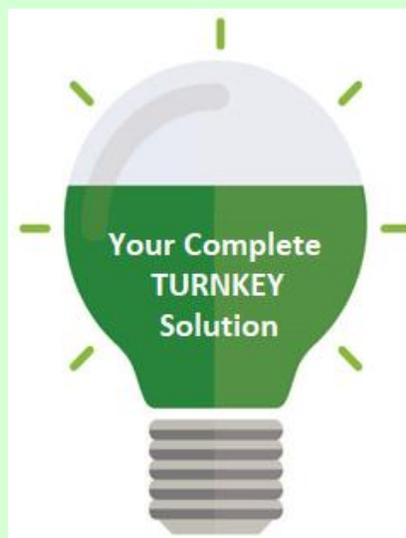

WELD SHOP

“Even as a lessee, it was worth paying for the new lights because the payback is well within our remaining lease term.”

- Weld Shop Manager
